Building a Better Water + Storm Water System for Monrovia

Oliver Chi, City Manager + Tina Cherry, Public Services Director

Even with the recent rains that we have had during this past winter, the aquifer from which Monrovia gets its water is still in a terribly unhealthy state. Given how complex the overall water industry is, we hope that you will come to this session to find out what the City and regional water entities are doing to improve the reliability of our water supply. This informative discussion will also touch on the storm water challenges and opportunities that face our region.
